MAIZENA,

The food and luxury of the age, without a single fault. One trial will convince the most skeptical. Makes Puddings, Cakes, Custards, Blanc Mange, &c. without lumpiness, with few or no eggs, at a cost astonishing the most economical. A slight addition to ordinary wheat flour greatly improves Bread and Cake. It is also excellent for thickening sweet sauces, gravies for fish and roast meats, soups, &c. For Ice Cream nothing can compare with it. A little boiled in milk will produce a rich cream for coffee, chocolate, tea, &c.

Put up in one pound packages, with directions.

A most delicious article of food for children and invalids of all ages. For sale by Grocers and Druggists everywhere

[Evening Despatches to the Times.]

Statements about Lee's Army—More Vessels Captured by the Tacony—A Thousand Ship sailing them—Exciting Reports from Baltimore and Philadelphia—Lee Believed to Have Crossed the Potomac with his whole force—Hooker's Troops also in Maryland—Sanguinary Battles believed to be at Hand—Ten More Fishing vessels burned off Martha's Vineyard—Official particulars of the Cavalry Raid in East Tennessee—500 Prisoners taken.

NEW YORK, 24th

It is stated that the aggregate sales of five-twenties up to Saturday last reached $162,670,000

BALTIMORE, 24th

A special despatch to the American says the whole line of the Potomac up to and beyond Leesburg is in possession of the Federal troops A large force occupies that town

NEW YORK, 24th

The Post's Washington despatch says it is at last fully ascertained that the main body of Gen Lee's army is in the Shenandoah Valley Ewell's corps moved from Culpepper first, and was followed by Longstreet's, which was succeeded by D H Hill's corps The corps of A P Hill did not go up the valley until after Ewell gained his success at Winchester.

NEW YORK, 24th

No hopes are now entertained of the recovery of Admiral Foote He is almost wholly unconscious, and is insensible to pain

Despatches from Somerset, Ky, say there are indications that the rebels are concentrating in the vicinity of Cumberland mountain, with the intention of invading Kentucky, or hold our forces in check, should they attempt to enter Tennessee

The Post has a letter dated Santa Cruz, May 30th, saying that the pirate Alabama was expected there the next day to coal, and that on representation of the American Consul, the Governor had given orders not to permit her to coal, The Post adds—it is not unlikely, therefore, she may be, an exporter, blockaded there

NEW YORK, 24th

A despatch dated 23d, says information received to-day renders it nearly positive that the whole of Ewell's corps has been transferred into Maryland This corps numbers about 33,000, infantry and artillery

Stuart's cavalry range up and down the Loudon valley, under the eastern shadows of the Blue Ridge

Pleasanton keeps a sharp lookout for him, and slight skirmishes occur daily

The number of prisoners taken in General Pleasanton's cavalry battles during the past week is 450, including 20 officers, among them one colonel, three lieutenant colonels, three majors, and the rest line officers

FREDERICK, Md, 24th

There is no longer any doubt that the rebels are in strong force in this side of the Potomac, and are marching into Pennsylvania

Refugees who arrived this evening from near the Pennsylvania line say that this morning at six o'clock Early's division of Ewell's corps passed through Smithsburg on their way to Chambersburg, which is 22 miles distant They had with them 16 pieces of artillery, two regiments of cavalry, and 12 of infantry—in all about 8000

General Rhodes's division took the Greencastle road from Hagerstown, and a third division of the enemy are reported advancing upon Mercersburg from the direction of Hancock Ewell commands in person He was at Hagerstown yesterday

The rebel army is accompanied by an immense wagon train which would indicate that the movement was more for the purpose of plunder than anything else

The rebels evacuated South Mountain yesterday, taking the road toward Greencastle

The rebels are seizing all the horses and battle they can lay their hands on, and sending them to the rear

Orders have been issued by the rebel commanders to spare the property of Marylanders, but when they arrive in Pennsylvania they shall have unbridled license to plunder and devastate

The rebel officers proclaim that it is their intention to march upon Harrisburg and then upon Pennsylvania. The Emergencies, the report, called militia assembled for the defence of the State, they say, will form no barrier to their march through the State.

NEW YORK, 25th

The Herald's Washington despatch says the rebel authorities still decline to exchange or release other officers or civilians who fall into their hands, although they express perfect willingness to receive such of either class of their own prisoners as we may be disposed to surrender to them.

Negotiations for the restoration of the exchange of all classes of prisoners as well as enlisted men, are in progress, and notice will be given as soon as any satisfactory arrangement is made between Commissioners Ludlow and Ould

A flag of truce boat will leave here for City Point tomorrow, with about 400 prisoners of war to be exchanged

The enlisted men, numbering between 4000 and 5000, who are now held at Fort Delaware, will be sent to City Point as soon as transportation can be provided

Major General Hunter left for his home this afternoon, to remain for a few days It is understood that he is soon to return to active service, and will probably be sent to the southwest to continue the work of organising the colored regiments so successfully commenced by Adjutant General Thomas

General Stuart is reported by prisoners to have had a very narrow escape during the fighting of Sunday. A shell from one of our batteries exploded directly over his head, killing several persons in its immediate vicinity

The Times' despatch says General Pleasanton has been appointed a Major General.

HYANNIS, 24th

A Wellfleet schooner arrived here last night She brings the crews of the fishing schooners Marengo, Elizabeth, Ann, Rufus Choate, and Ripple, all burned by the Tacony They report that on Sunday last the Tacony burned the ship Hymalaya, Captain Robinson, from London May 15, of and for New York, and the bark Goodspeed, from Londonderry May 20th, for New York. The crews were all safe to New York in the schooner Hermon.

The Tacony has burned 17 vessels since the 12th inst.

The Byrantium was rated at A 1½, was built at Thomaston, Me, in 1856, and was owned by Thomas Dunham, Esq

The Goodspeed was rated at A 1½, and was built at East Haddam, Ct.

NEW YORK, 25th

The Herald's Washington despatch states Lee's force to be as follows Ewell's corps, 35,000, Longstreet's 42,000, Stuart's cavalry 8,000 and Jenkins's force 3000

It also says Richmond is defended by D H Hill's corps, 21,000 on the south, and General French on the north, with 17,000 White's heavy brigade under Wise is on the York river railroad

Gen Case with two brigades occupies Hanover Junction assisted by 3,500 Texans captured by us at Arkansas Post, and exchanged

Gen Jackson commands at East Tennessee and has under his command Gen Pegram with 8000 or 10,000, which with the force in Cumberland Gap region is expected to invade Kentucky

NEW YORK, 24th

Mexican advices via Havana reiterate that the Capital is in a thorough state of defence Two French divisions numbering 15,000 men are marching on the Capital Others are to follow

The Times' Harrisburg despatch says reinforcements have not been sent to General Knipe at Carlisle and in all probability the troops there will be ordered back to Harrisburg

NEW YORK, 25th

The Baltimore American of yesterday afternoon, says—

There is no longer any doubt that Lee purposes the renewal of his attempt of last year to capture Washington by the Maryland route, and that more sanguinary battles will be fought on the soil of Maryland The advance in the Cumberland Valley is merely for forage and supplies, and has no purpose of penetrating to Harrisburg

The American says it is also believed that Gen Hooker will to day (Wednesday) have a large force in Frederick county arrayed between the enemy and Washington and Baltimore The garrison at Maryland Heights now form the right wing of Gen Hooker's army and has been placed under his command

PHILADELPHIA, 24th

The inquirer of this city has the following special despatch

Bloody Run 24th.

Imboden's whole rebel force is concentrating at Hancock McConnellsburg was occupied by the rebels this evening

FREDERICK, 24th

Large rebel wagon trains, provisions, tents, &c, were moving north through Hagerstown, Martinsburg and Boonesboro on Sunday last

General Rhodes' rebel division, 10,000 strong left Hagerstown on Tuesday for Chambersburg

General Johnson's rebel division, 12,000 strong, with 18 pieces of artillery, crossed to Shepperdstown on Sunday One half of his force was at Boonesboro on Monday, and left on Tuesday for the north The other half went to Williamsport

It is generally believed that the greater part of Lee's army crossed over into Maryland since Friday at Antietam, Shepperdstown and Williamsport

CINCINNATI, 25th.

The following despatch has been received by Maj Gen Burnside from the expedition sent into East Tennessee

Boston, Ky, 24th

I arrived here with my command at 11 o'clock this forenoon I struck the railroad at Louisville, destroyed the railroad up to Knoxville, and made a demonstration against Knoxville so as to have the troops drawn from above I then destroyed the railroad track and started for Strawberry Plains Burnt the State Creek bridge, 813 feet long, the Strawberry Plain bridge, 1600 feet long, also the Massey Creek bridge, 325 feet long

I captured three pieces of artillery, some 200 boxes of artillery ammunition, over 400 prisoners and 1600 stand of arms, and destroyed a large amount of salt, sugar, flour, meal and saltpetre, and one saltpetre works, and other stores

My command are much fatigued We have had but two nights sleep since leaving Williamsburg

The rebel force in East Tennessee is larger than I had supposed I did not attack Ludon bridge for reasons that I will explain

At Massey Creek I determined to return into the mountains I had very great difficulties that were unexpected I found the gap through which I intended to return strongly guarded with artillery and infantry A force was also following in our rear I then determined to cross at Smith's Gap, which I did

I will report more fully as soon as possible

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

S H LANDERS,
Col Commanding

WILLING TO MAKE IT RIGHT—Mr M, of northern Vermont, is not distinguished for liberality, either of purse or opinion His ruling passion is a fear of being cheated The loss, whether real or fancied, of a few cents, would give him more pain than the destruction of our entire navy He one day bought a large cake of tallow at a country store at ten cents a pound On breaking it to pieces at home, it was found to contain a large cavity. This he considered a terrible disclosure of cupidity and fraud He drove furiously back to the store, entered in great excitement, bearing the tallow, and exclaiming

"Here, you rascal, you have cheated me! Do you call that an honest cake of tallow? It is hollow, and there an't near so much of it as there appeared to be I want you to make it right."

"Certainly, certainly," replied the merchant. I'll make it right. I didn't know the cake was hollow. Let me see: you paid ten cents per pound. Now Mr M., how much do you suppose that the hole would weigh?"

Mr. M. returned home with the dishonest tallow, but was never quite satisfied that he had not been cheated by buying holes at ten cents per pound

The Richmond papers think that if the "Yankee democracy" fight hard against the Union, we may have peace in two years—that is—it thinks that if this class of people fight as hard against the Union the next two years as they have the last few months, that there is hope for the Confederacy Copperheads, it's some consolation, to know that you are appreciated, isn't it?

The Piracies of the Rebels.

The increasing number of the rebel pirates, and the boldness and extent of their operations, is creating much excitement in the community, and the most earnest representations will soon be made to the Government in behalf of effective measures for the protection of our commerce. If we have no gunboats or steamers or vessels capable of catching a rebel pirate, the sooner the Government gives authority to the people, by issuing letters-of-marque, the better. Private enterprise will do what has not yet been accomplished—clear the ocean of these buccaneers in sixty days. The objection to the issuing of letters-of marque has been that the indiscretion or rashness of some of the privateers might involve us in a war with Great Britain, especially as there are but very few vessels belonging to the rebels afloat, and our privateers could look for valuable prizes only at mainly among the blockade runners. There is validity in this objection—but we had better run the risk of a war with England than submit to the total destruction or embargo of our commerce. It has already become hazardous for a vessel even to make a coasting trip, because a rebel sailing craft with a single gun is prowling along shore. It would seem that a few guns could be thrown aboard any one of our passenger steamers, and this pirate captured in twenty-four hours and we hope to see it done, law or no law for it

Army Correspondence of Whig & Courier.

From the 22d. Maine.

Gunboat Gun of Port Hudson,
June 5th, 1863.

Mr. Editor:

Port Hudson will probably be ours in a few weeks. We are getting the loud mortars and the immense siege guns into position, and when the blow falls, it must be irresistible. Before the Fourth of July, I hope you will have the satisfaction of knowing that Port Hudson has fallen Vicksburg, I think, must also fall. Then the Mississippi is ours forever.

Every Maine regiment in the department is in line and within gunshot of the rebel works. The 22d is in good health and spirits. We have not yet lost a man in battle, but are ready to take our full share of the risks which the impending struggle imposes.

I saw General Dow, yesterday. He is rapidly recovering from his wound, and expects to be in the saddle again in a week.

We have had long, hard marches, but there is no complaint. If we can only have success in subduing this infamous rebellion, we will not think of the sacrifices incurred.

Excuse this hasty note. I send it that our friends may know where we are, and the reason that they do not receive their accustomed letters.

Yours, &c., J. K. LINCOLN.

Chaplain 22d Reg't Me. Vols.

It is understood that the Emancipation Committee of the Missouri State Convention, by a vote of seven out of nine members, recommend that slavery shall cease absolutely in 1876. They also recommend the prohibition of immigration of slaves from other States. A minority of the committee recommend even a more immediate emancipation than this—putting the time next year. Slavery is doomed in Missouri, any way. It is only a question of a few years time. It is probable the policy of gradualism will be adopted, and then emancipation, will be adopted, but it may be immediate emancipation. The latter would do no harm, in our opinion.

From Rosecrans's Army. General Rosecrans is said to be anxious to increase the cavalry of his army still further, and contemplates doing this by mounting infantry regiments. The number of effectives in his army—muskets and sabres—has been increased by many thousands during the last two weeks, owing to the return of convalescents and discharged prisoners

The Chattanooga Rebel of the 13th instant, announces that the people of Augusta, Georgia, are intensely excited over a rumored advance of Federal cavalry. A lieutenant colonel in command at that point had "issued a stirring appeal to the people to rally for the common defence, and had also arranged a system of signalling news of impending danger." Subsequently, a highly excited meeting of citizens was held, and for some days the utmost alarm prevailed in the community. Whether there was any real danger does not appear, but the incident affords another illustration of the trepidation which the recent dashes of our cavalry have occasioned everywhere throughout the State.

DETROIT, June 25, 1863.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

I saw in the Courier of yesterday some account of the attempts to arrest Isaac N. Grant of Palmyra and Charles C. Knowles of Troy, by officer McKenney of Belfast.

I came to the place of action Monday morning at half past three o'clock, with twelve chosen men from Belfast. We found McKenney dangerously wounded. The citizens of Troy, Detroit, Palmyra and Newport turned out in large numbers, armed for the conflict. Watch was kept day and night up to 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. About noon, Tuesday, Mr. Waterhouse, Chairman of the Selectmen of Detroit, arranged with me to send some men down the Sebasticook in boats to examine both sides of the river and report. The men selected were William H. Jenkins and Lyman C. Hurd of Detroit and Joseph Aylrick of Palmyra. After going down the river to near the Forks (so called), they discovered tracks just made. They followed cautiously, and when about two rods from the river, Grant and Knowles arose with a yell, with revolvers in each hand, from a thicket of low brush and brakes, and fired upon them, hitting Myrick in the thigh, and instantly Jenkins fell dead, struck by Grant through the breast near the heart. It was then a hand-to-hand encounter, and almost bloody one. Their rifles and revolvers are broken in fragments. Grant has seven bullet holes in him—Knowles has two. But the most desperate part of the fighting was done with the butts of their rifles and revolvers. Grant died on the ground. Knowles is alive this morning, but with no hopes of recovery.

Thus the world is rid of two men whose career has been rapid and short.

The four horses, two wagons and two harnesses, stolen by them within the last month, have been recovered. Several stores in this vicinity have been robbed within the last few months one of which was burned, and goods have been found that fasten that upon them.

Great credit is due Mr. Waterhouse for this plan, and also to Mr. Tracy of Palmyra, Mr Shaw of Newport, Mr. Watson of Troy, and all the citizens in this vicinity, for their prompt and energetic action.

We from Belfast now leave for home, feeling sorrowful this two worthy men have fallen in helping to rid the world of two young men who were a terror in their neighborhood, and dangerous to the peace of the State.

Myers and Hurd are receiving the congratulations of their friends at having so wonderful an escape.

Yours respectfully, J. D. THOMAS,
Sheriff of Waldo County.

The men who think slavery better has freedom are constantly trying about the oppression, which the freed blacks of the South suffer at the hands of our military authorities. To show how false is this charge of the men who are always finding something to urge against freedom, we copy from the Franklin (La.) Register the following rules which were adopted in an agreement with the negroes who had been emancipated by the advance of our army. Let the pro-slavery men say if they are not fair:

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1st. We agree to work on this plantation for one year, and to do such a day's work as was done in former years.

2d. We will obey the manager in all things, and assist him to enforce these rules against all offenders.

3d. Lost time will be deducted. Lazy work will cause a deduction of wages. Tasks will be given when possible.

4th. We will go to work at daylight, and will work until dark, taking the usual number of hours for meals. For being too late at getting out, taking ten minutes after the last tap of the bell, a fine of ten cents. Habitual lateness, swearing, quarrelling, or breaking any other rule, expulsion from the place, with loss of all back wages to the hospital fund. All fines go to the fund.

5th. All hands will be in their cabins at the last tap of the bell, ready to remain there till the first bell in the morning, under a fine of ten cents for each offender.

6th. The wages are one dollar per month for women and boys, two dollars for field hands, and three dollars for mechanics; or one twentieth part of the crop, with clothing and rations usually furnished.

7th. Each hand will be responsible for loss or damage to stock, tools, or other property.—Striking a mule on the head, a fine of twenty-five cents. The hand who takes his mules thro' the season in the best order will be entitled to $25.00; the second best, $15.00, the third best, $10; and three prizes of dwelling are each.

8th. Each family will be allowed half an acre for a garden.

9th. No liquor will be sold or bought on the place by any one, under a fine of one dollar for the first offence. Liquor will be kept in the hospital, and sold for the general fund.

10th. No one will leave the place without a written pass.

11th. We will appear in clean clothes on every Sunday morning; fine ten cents.

12th. All disputes among ourselves will be brought before the manager, whose decision we will abide by.

13th. During grinding we will make our usual watch, taking out tickets for one week each night, and fifty cents for each Sunday's work.

14th. If ever five hogsheads of sugar are raised in each hand, the proprietor will divide five dollars for each hogshead over that number. The hand who hoeing the greatest number of credit stands and the fewest outdoors of bad marks, will be entitled to the highest prize—$25; with little lid prizes of $15 and $10; the balance will be divided equally among the hands.

How to Water Plants. This is usually badly done. Water is poured upon the surface—enough, perhaps, to wet down an inch or two. The water washes the fine earth into the chinks and interstices, and there the plant stand, with dry soil below, but with a baked mass on the surface which shuts out warmth, air, and the moisture that would be derived from its free circulation. One of two methods should be adopted. Remove the surface earth and pour on water enough to reach the wet subsoil, and when the water has soaked in, replace the dry surface soil, to be moistened from below; or, make a hole as near as you can without disturbing the roots, and fill this with water twice or three times, and afterwards fill it with the dry earth first removed. At all events, when you water at all, water freely, and with the foot or a hoe throw a little dry earth over the surface as the water settles away. These are important hints. A few plants thus well cared for will yield more than three times number carelessly treated.

Martin the Mail Robber. In the United States District Court, yesterday, Judge Ware sentenced George Martin, the Amherst mail robber, to ten years imprisonment upon three indictments, upon all of which he had entered a plea of guilty. The law provides for a sentence of from two to ten years for each offence, but the judge considered the plea of guilty, and the apparent contrition of the prisoner. The prisoner is quite a young man and does not appear like an old or hardened offender, although the circumstances of the robbery show that he is an adroit and persevering rogue. We admit, we believe, that he has not given his real name or residence, but says he has a wife and child, and does not wish them to be disgraced by his conviction.

Samuel Graffam was on trial for violation of the Internal Revenue Law. One count for neglecting to obtain an innkeeper's license, seventh chapter—the other for neglecting to obtain license as a retail liquor dealer. Found guilty on the first only.

Maine Central Railroad. The annual meeting of this corporation was held at Waterville Wednesday. There was a very large attendance of the stockholders.

The reports of the Directors, Treasurer and Superintendent were accepted, and the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the present year—Wm. Goodenow and Ira Crocker, Portland; S P Benson, Winthrop; Franklin Smith, Waterville; Hollis Bowman and Thomas W Baldwin, Bangor; Wm Connor, Fairfield. These gentlemen comprise the old board with the exception of Mr. Connor, who was elected in the place of Rufus Horton, who declined. The elections were unanimously made

After completing the choice of Directors the meeting adjourned.

Knowles, the Desperado. We learn from Mr. Cushman, of the Newport and Dexter stage line, that Knowles, the confederate of Grant, was still alive yesterday morning, at Detroit, but that he was supposed to have a very small chance of recovery. His skull is the front part of the head, was broken in by blows from a musket.

We hear that Grant had said, publicly and repeatedly, that he never would be arrested, (as a deserter,) and being present at a democratic meeting in Dexter not long since, he was triumphantly pointed out by a secession sympathizer, as a man who "couldn't be arrested."

A Tremendous Wolf. The Lewiston Journal says the wolf recently killed in Carthage, (whose skin stuffed, is on exhibition at Lewiston,) has a history. For more than a dozen years he has been the terror of sheep owners in the vicinity of Carthage, and in his day he has been the death of hundreds of dollars worth of sheep. He was at last overtaken by strychnine, mingled with a bait which Mr. W. B. Packer of Greene, put in its way. The length of the animal is 5 ft. 4 inches and his height is 2½ feet.

☞ A motto of modern democracy has been—"The Union as it was and the Constitution as it is." The Ohio Convention that nominated Vallandigham, resolved in favor of amendments to the constitution. How is this? Are they going to have two constitutions—one "as it was" and the other a little more so?

☞ The carriage road up Mount Washington has been put in complete order this season, and the snow has passed away rapidly in the mountain gorges during the past two weeks. The public houses on the summit were not secured in the autumn that they were not much damaged by the storms of last winter.

☞ The Maine Age says that Mrs. Curtis of Greenville, was accidentally run over in the street on Thursday of last week, by one of the fast horses which are driven daily through the street, to the great danger of the people. She was knocked down and fell directly under the horse, but fortunately, was taken out without any serious injuries.

A Hippopotamus in Lake Erie. A Detroit despatch says that the hippopotamus recently on exhibition in that city, while on board the steamer S. D. Caldwell, on her passage from Buffalo to Detroit, made its escape from the boat and sought more extended accommodations in the waters of Lake Erie. Grant's Idea of it. The slaughter of the negro troops by the rebels in the battle of Milliken's Bend has induced General Grant to issue an order declaring that hereafter should any soldier, whether white or black, wearing the uniform of a United States soldier, be captured and executed, retaliatory measures will be accepted by him, and rebel soldiers in his hands will be treated in like manner.

PHILADELPHIA, 25th

A Harrisburg despatch says Jenkins is at ... Chambersburg Fulton county. ... rebels have ten regiments with artillery ... valley on South Mountain beyond Gettysburg.

BALTIMORE, 24th

The information received here this morning ... of Western Maryland is to the following ... report.—

General Lee is said to have passed through Winchester on Friday. The entire rebel army was then in motion, claiming to be 100,000 strong.

Ewell was at Hagerstown on Monday, and his corps marched on Tuesday for Pennsylvania. Longstreet's corps were about to cross the Potomac and were to be on this side by Wednesday.

The rebel programme, according to the representations of a highly intelligent sympathizer just from Western Maryland is—that Hill's forces were to occupy General Hooker's attention until the main body of the army were well on their way.

The whole rebel army would then move rapidly north, having in the meantime supplied themselves with fresh horses from Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The rebels expected to capture Harrisburg almost without opposition, and move at once on Philadelphia.

This extravagant programme was seriously related by the gentleman in question to a loyal gentleman who was supposed by the relator to be rather indifferent to the success of the Union cause.

The relator further says that all the rebel officers have been newly mounted and equipped, and their advance forces made to present a very fine appearance.

Ewell told his men to pay liberally for everything—that although the people might turn up their noses at rebel money now, they would soon be glad to get it.

These representations are sent for what they are worth. However extravagant and absurd they may appear, they are a truthful representation of the hopes and expectations of intelligent and thinking rebels.

WASHINGTON, 25th

The Republican in an extra today says:

"A gentleman arrived here this morning who left Hagerstown at 8 o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) morning. He saw Ewell's force, comprising the left wing of Lee's army, pass through that place. The head of the column reached Hagerstown on Tuesday morning and moved directly through to Pennsylvania. The rear of the column which is understood to belong to Ewell, did not pass through the place until last night. This force was estimated to be from 20,000 to 25,000 strong.

The troops did but very little damage beyond seizing all the horses they could find.

Our informant says when he left Hagerstown yesterday morning it was understood that Longstreet, in command of the right wing of Lee's army was then crossing the Potomac below Williamsport.

The main body of a picket force, comprising the centre of Lee's army, was understood yesterday to be somewhere between Winchester and Martinsburg, moving towards the river.

We have no doubt from all the information we have gathered that the whole of Ewell's column is in Pennsylvania, not far from Chambersburg.

The gentleman who saw Ewell's troops says they had with them a very large number of wagons. From the fact it is inferred, they intend to gather all the supplies they can find.

PHILADELPHIA, 24th

Jay Cooke, the Subscription Agent, reports the sale of $1,194,000 of 5 20s to-day, at the various agencies.

Bonds are being delivered to June 1st.

The uncertainty which still environs rebel movements in Pennsylvania and Maryland, has the effect of lessening the volume of sales, but the number of local subscribers is peculiarly gratifying.

WASHINGTON, 25th

It is not true as stated, that the Adams Express Company refused to convey valuables for transportation north.

Of the 513 rebel prisoners to be sent south for exchange, 51 are severely wounded. Most of them were captured within the past week.

It is understood that General French has been assigned to the command of Harper's Ferry.

A reconnoissance went yesterday within several miles of Culpepper, and found only a few rebel scouts.

A large number of sick and wounded soldiers were transferred to the hospitals in this city, from the Virginia side to-day.

PHILADELPHIA, 25th.

Business is partially suspended in this city to-day.

The receipt and shipment of goods by the Pennsylvania railroad is temporarily suspended.

BALTIMORE, 25th

It is reported through various channels that General Lee and his staff crossed the Potomac yesterday.

There are various rumors in connection with the rebel movements, but not sufficiently definite to be worth repeating.

In regard to our own movements it is sufficient to say that our authorities are not idle.

NEW YORK, 25th

A letter from Washington, dated yesterday, says 20,000 of Bragg's army are at Richmond doing garrison duty.

The letter also says General Lee has his whole army (125,000) in the immediate vicinity of the Potomac.

Bragg is to take care of Richmond while Lee takes care of Washington. Richmond was reinforced on the 19th.

NEW YORK, 25th

A British brig arrived to-day and reports—June 21, lat 38 50, lon 74 05 was boarded by a United States steamer which refused to give her name.

NEW YORK, 26th

The Post's Washington special says the delegation of Ohio democrats appointed by the late State Convention to procure the release of Vallandigham arrived here to-day. As yet they have had no interview with the President.

All is quiet in front.

NEW YORK, 25th.

The Harrisburg special to the Herald says the matter of declaring martial law is under consideration, as being the only means of compelling hundreds to defend this city, who are desirous of making money out of our misfortunes.

The enemy are advancing slowly.

Our troops were cutting down trees, fences, &c, and barricading the road to Carlisle.

A Carlisle despatch to the Herald says the rebels charged our cavalry this morning—we falling back and the rebels following very cautiously.

The rebels say they will destroy the crops in Cumberland valley, and have already done so to a great extent.

The rebel officers were taken prisoners to-day.

All drinking saloons in Harrisburg are closed by the Mayor.

Considerable reinforcements have been sent to Gen Knipe, who will defend what we now hold of Cumberland Valley.

A despatch dated 10 this afternoon says the rebels have come to a stand still.

Our troops are advantageously posted.

There are no reports of fighting to-night.

The telegraph is still open to Carlisle. The rebels are foraging all over the country they occupy.

A Carlisle despatch to the Herald says we do not expect the enemy here to-night.

Ewell's headquarters are at Chambersburg.

General Knipe is obeying instructions and making the best disposition of his forces.

The rebel force is very strong, and is feeling its way very cautiously. Their cavalry may annoy us before morning, but it is doubtful.

HARRISBURG, 25th.

Latest advices from Carlisle say that the company's operator left there this afternoon, but the military operator is still there, maintaining communication. The rebels are within 4 miles in force. Their encampment is in view of the city. Our troops were drawn up in line of battle nearly all day, expecting an attack.

General Knipe is said to be throwing up entrenchments there.

General Couch today issued an order appointing Colonel Coffee, formerly Professor of Grant College, to collect from official despatches all information that is not contraband. He is to make up two despatches each day for the use of reporters. Colonel Coffee has not attended to his duties, and consequently there is not a word of official news by telegraph tonight from this department. There is important news which ought to be sent, but it cannot be got at.

PHILADELPHIA 20—. A. M.

The Washington Star says there is nothing known to justify the current story that Lee has 100,000 men at Winchester.

There is no probability in the account to-day that a large force of rebels were yesterday evening moving from the direction of Boonesboro to Freeland. If true, however, it simply proves that Lee proposes to steal in as many directions as possible and over as great an extent of territory as possible in the shortest possible time, for he cannot be sweeping west of Pittsburg with large armies directed against each, while he also carries at Winchester with a hundred thousand men.

Such is the tenor of various accounts come to Washington since our last issue. In truth up to 2 p m, we have been able to learn nothing great lying in the change of the impression we lately published that Lee's main object in coming north was to attack Washington if he can induce Hooker to scatter his army, and that a fact, while at the same time supplying his forces from Maryland and Pennsylvania with absolutely necessary things, of which the rebels within his reach is a terrible exhausted.

The most desirable fact involved in the situation is the apparent utter incompetence of the people of Pennsylvania to protect themselves, and aid the cause even to the poor extent of driving their horses and cattle north, and concealing their coveted other goods before the different little squads of rebel cavalry pounce on them.

PHILADELPHIA 25th

The Bulletin has the following despatch—

CINCINNATI, 25th

A gentleman direct from the army besieging Vicksburg furnishes us with most cheering advices.

Our army is sufficient to take the place.

Grant's position against Joe Johnston is as strong as that of Pemberton against Grant.

The indications multiply that the rebel army in Vicksburg must shortly surrender.

The fire upon the city is very heavy and destructive. The rebel reply to our fire is not heavy and is ineffectual.

Joe Johnston is believed to be mainly employed in preparations to defend the interior of Mississippi after the fall of Vicksburg.

The rebel spirit of resistance in the southwest is burning itself out in harrassing but conclusive warfare along the river.

MONTPELIER, Vt 25th

The Democratic State Convention will be held in this place to-morrow. The weather is fine and appearances indicate a pretty full attendance. James Brooks and other New York gentlemen are advertised to speak. It is thought this evening that the nominees of the Convention will be as follows. For Governor, Hon Timothy Redfield of Montpelier, for Lt Governor E A Chapin of Rutland, for Treasurer R Mc Kornsby of Bradford.

The Belfast Age gives the following account of the manner in which officer McKinney was shot by the desperado Grant.

A good deal of excitement has been caused a day or two past in the northern section of this county, owing to the discovery of two desperate horse thieves and deserters, by the names of Isaac M Grant of Palmyra, and Charles Knowles of Troy. Several weeks since the horse and wagon of Eben Whitcomb of Waldo were stolen, and the wagon has since been discovered at the house of Knowles' father in Troy. Soon after stealing this horse, they stole a horse and wagon from a man named Bearce in Dover and brought it to this city, where they sold the horse, leaving the wagon and harness in the care of Mr John J Mahoney on the shore road in the lower part of the city. The thieves remained here some days, and finally sold the wagon to Mr Mahoney. Soon after they left town, the owner of the horse and wagon came and fully identified them as his. A warrant was procured by Mr Mahoney, and put into the hands of Mr C O McKinney, Chief of Police, who with Mr Mahoney, started on Saturday morning in pursuit. It was ascertained that after leaving this city they had stolen two other horses on Thursday night previous, one belonging to Rev N W Miller of North Searsport, and the other to John W Neally of South Montville. Officer McKinney, while returning from the vicinity of Bangor, learning that they had the day previous been found at a house in Monroe, and that the inhabitants had surrounded the house and kept them prisoners some time, but not knowing whether they had power to detain them, had suffered them to depart.—Meeting a Mr. Prescott, a constable, they pursued on together in two wagons—Prescott and Mahoney ahead, and McKinney and a young man a little distance behind. About 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Prescott and Mahoney overtook them in the road. They separated to let the wagon pass, when Prescott and Mahoney jumped out,—Prescott seizing Knowles and Mahoney Grant. Prescott struck Knowles over the head and stunned him, and held him without difficulty. Mahoney threw Grant, but Grant turned him and succeeded in getting his pistol from him. At this moment McKinney rose up, and as he jumped from the wagon, Grant fired, the ball striking him just above the small of the back, about two inches from the back bone, he being in a stooping posture and passed outside the backbone, up under the right shoulder. McKinney grasped his pistol in his left hand, and he and Grant exchanged three shots in fast shot from Grant taking effect in the left arm of McKinney inflicting a deep flesh wound when he fell. Grant then came up to McKinney, and taking his pistol, started with Knowles over the fence towards the woods. After going a rod or two he turned back and exclaimed, G—d—m you I will finish you before I leave, and fired three shots at him, one of the balls passing through the waistband of his pants, just above the hip and another just grazing his head and breaking the skin.—He then with Knowles made for the woods.

PURSUIT OF THE PIRATE TACONY. The screw steamer Cambridge (four guns) and the screw steamer Ion Age (four guns) will be dispatched from the Charlestown Navy Yard as soon as they can be got ready in search of the rebel pirate Tacony. The screw tug boat Hodgdon (two guns) will also probably be sent in search of Tacony.

It is stated that the receiving ship Ohio will be immediately sent down the harbor and moored in the vicinity of the Narrows.

—Boston Journal

THE friends of General Nickerson have received letters from him dated June 9th two weeks later than that of his reported death.

The name of Hon Samuel Cony, of Augusta, having been mentioned in our columns by a correspondent in connection with the gubernatorial nomination, we take this opportunity to state that we have the very highest authority for saying that Judge Cony most respectfully declines to have his name used and while he will take the ground he will give to the nominee a most cordial support.

Prospectus

OF A

Loyal Union Newspaper

FOR AROOSTOOK

THE subscribers propose to publish, if sufficient encouragement be given a Loyal Union Newspaper in Aroostook, to be printed either at Presque Isle or Houlton, as circumstances may hereafter dictate to be called

THE LOYAL SUNRISE,

EDITED BY DANIEL STICKNEY

It will give an efficient and unconditional support to all the measures of the government for the suppression of the rebellion. It will advocate the right of all men, white and colored, to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Knowing as we do that if this war is prosecuted at all, for the next twenty-one months at least it must be by the men now in power that we can have no other loyal and constitutional President than Abraham Lincoln until after the next Presidential election unless he should be removed by death; otherwise we shall not cavil or split hairs about the measures of the government, but give them a hearty and cordial support, as measures necessary for the suppression of the rebellion deeming that the President, his cabinet, and his principal Generals, are the judges of the measures necessary for the accomplishment of an end which if not accomplished the Union, Constitution, and whole administration of the government must cease to exist.

We propose to make the paper the organ of the loyal men of Aroostook in reference to our local politics, will not put forth candidates for office those men who shall be nominated and brought before the people for support at the polls by the unconditional loyal men of the county.

We shall spare no pains to render the paper worthy of patronage, on account of its promoting the business and local interest of every part of the county and endeavor to make it equal if not superior to any other, as a local paper. In this department we shall give information on the state of the markets and business, and several other features not before attempted in any paper in this county.

We shall give the paper a pure and unexceptionable moral tone, earnestly advocate every moral reform and improvement prompted by every means in our power the interest of every object lovely and of good report—social order, education, and everything which conduces to the elevation and improvement of the community.

All flash literature, of questionable moral influence, will be excluded from its columns, as also all advertisements of intoxicating drinks in any of their forms, whether under the pretense of medicine or for any other purpose.

It will be published every Wednesday, (so that it may reach every part of the county the same week) on a sheet a little smaller than the other Aroostook papers, with new and small type, so that it will contain more reading matter than either of them at $1.00 per year in advance. 25 cents will be added to the price for every three months delay in the payment.

The first number will be issued early in August if sufficient encouragement is given to insure its success. If the loyal citizens of Aroostook desire such a paper, and will give it an early and generous support, it will be commenced, otherwise not.

The importance of having some organ of communication between the loyal men in this county at this time, and especially in the next Presidential election, in which will be involved the most important issues ever presented to the American people, will readily be appreciated by all.

LARGE SALE

REAL ESTATE

On Thomas' Hill,

AT AUCTION!

J B FOSTER Auctioneer

On Wednesday, July 15th, 1863

At 3 o'clock P M on the premises,

I SHALL SELL all the Lots now unsold on the southerly side of James street (as per Plan of Lots made for J W Low Esq, and recorded in the Penobscot Registry of Deeds, book 4, page 7)—beginning with Lot No. 1 adjoining the residence of Mrs Bailey on Thomas Street.

Lots No 1 2 3 4, and 5 front on James Street and run back 100 feet, to an alley 16 feet wide. Lot No 1 is 100 feet on James by 100 feet on Union St. Lots 2 3, 4 and 5 are by 100 feet. Lots 8 9 10 11 12, and 13 are on the Easterly side of Thomas Street—and all but No 13 are by 14 feet. No 13 has a front of about 200 feet on James street—and on the Street about 300 feet, and adjoins the premises of Horatio Fletcher Esq.

To a resident of the city these Lots need no commendation. The street of has only to examine, to admire them. There is no locality in the city that offers so many attractions for residences as Thomas Hill. Already two of the most elegant mansions in the city have been erected there, and it cannot be long before all the vacant Lots will be taken up and occupied. These Lots combine the advantage of convenient proximity to the city with the retirement of the country. The view from Thomas Hill is beautiful and grand beyond description.

This sale offers a rare opportunity to any one desirous of securing a desirable location for building and to the speculator who wants to invest where he can be sure of a profit.

The sale will be positive. One quarter of the purchase money to be paid down the balance on any time to suit the convenience of the purchaser—not exceeding four years—with interest.

A Plan of the Lots can be seen by calling upon the Auctioneer or upon J W LOW

Laws of the United States.

Passed at the Third Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress.

[Public—No. 51.]

AN ACT to amend an act entitled "An act to provide internal revenue to support the Government and pay interest on the public debt" approved July first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That "An act to provide internal revenue to support the Government and pay interest on the public debt," approved July first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and the same hereby is amended as hereinafter set forth, namely:

That whenever any written notice or other instrument in writing, is required, the same shall be lawful if written or partly written and partly printed.

That section eleven be and hereby is amended so as to authorize assistant assessors to perform the duties therein imposed upon assessors.

That section twelve be so amended that the deputy collector, as well as the collector, may perform all the duties required of the said collector in the said section; and any notice required by said section to persons who may not be able to pay their taxes may be sent by mail or left at the dwelling or usual place of business of such persons, if any they have, written or printed, and shall so describe the amount of duty or tax for which such persons are liable, including the tax per centum additions as provided for in said section, demanding payment of the same, and with respect to all such duties or taxes as are not included in the annual lists as provided for in said section, and all taxes and duties the collection of which is not otherwise provided for in said act, it shall be the duty of each collector in person or by deputy to demand payment therefor, in the manner provided, within ten days from and after the expiration of the time within which such duty or tax shall have been paid, and any copy of distraint shall be left at the dwelling or usual place of business of the owner or possessor of the property distrained: Provided, That such special demand shall not be necessary in respect to taxes assessed by section seventy-seven of said act.

That section twenty-eight be and hereby is amended by striking out the words "forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars," and insert in lieu thereof "upon conviction thereof by a court of competent jurisdiction, forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding two years, at the discretion of the court."

That section forty-three be amended by striking out the following words "and all persons who shall use any cask or package so marked, for the purpose of selling spirits of a quality different from that so inspected, shall be subjected to a like penalty for each cask or package so used," and inserting in lieu thereof "and any person who shall fraudulently use any cask or package so marked for the purpose of selling any other spirits than that so inspected, or for selling spirits of a quality or quantity different from that so inspected, shall be subjected to a like penalty, as provided for such cask or package so used."

That section forty-four be and hereby is amended, by striking out the words "to be boatswains in such distillery."

That section fifty-five be and hereby is amended by inserting after the words "shall not be paid at the time of rendering the account of the same as herein required," the words "or at the time when they shall have become payable."

That section sixty-four be and hereby is so amended, that no license shall be required of an attorney having taken out a license as such, in consequence of being employed to purchase, rent, or sell real estate, or to collect what thereon for others in the ordinary course of business; and in paragraph number sixteen by inserting after the word "taverns," the words "or eating-house," by adding to paragraph number twenty-eight the following words: "Nor shall apothecaries who have taken out a license so made be required to take out a license as retail dealers in liquors in consequence of selling alcohol," and in paragraph number twenty-nine by inserting after the word "merchandise," or who shall manufacture by hand or machinery, for any other person, or persons, goods, wares, or merchandise."

That section sixty-four be and hereby is further amended by adding, at the end thereof, the following paragraphs:

Twenty-three. Architects and civil engineers shall pay ten dollars for each license. Every person whose business it is to plan, design, or superintend the construction of buildings, or ships or vessels, or bridges, or canals, or railroads, shall be regarded as an architect and civil engineer under this act. Provided, That this shall not include a practical carpenter who labors only in lining.

Twenty-five. Undertakers or contractors shall pay twenty-five dollars for each license. Every person who is in the business of undertaking or contracting to construct buildings or ships or bridges or canals, or railroads, by contract shall be regarded as a builder and contractor under this act: Provided, That no license shall be required from any person whose building contract shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars in one year.

Twenty-six. Stallions and jacks, owners of, shall pay ten dollars for each license. Every person who keeps a male horse or jackass for the use of mares, requiring or receiving pay therefor, shall be required to take out a license under this act, which shall contain a brief description of the animal, its age, and place or places where used or to be used: Provided, That all accounts, notes, or other claims, for the use of any such horse or jack without a license, as aforesaid, shall be invalid and of no force in any court of law or equity.

Twenty-seven. Lottery ticket dealers shall pay one thousand dollars for each license. Every person, association, firm, or corporation who shall manufacture, sell, or offer to sell lottery tickets or tickets, or part thereof, or any tokens, certificates or devices representing or pretending to represent a lottery ticket or any fractional part thereof, or any lottery of numbers in any lottery or shall manage any lottery or prepare schemes of lotteries, or superintend the drawing of any lottery, shall be deemed a lottery ticket dealer under this act.

Thirty-eight. Insurance agents shall pay ten dollars for each license. Any person who shall act as agent of any fire, marine, life, mutual, or other insurance company, or companies, shall be regarded as an insurance agent under this act: Provided, That no license shall be required of any insurance agent or broker whose receipts, as such agent, are less than the sum of six hundred dollars in any one year.

Thirty-nine. Butchers shall pay ten dollars for each license. Every person whose business it is to sell butchers' meat at retail shall be regarded as a butcher under this act: Provided, That no butcher having taken out a license, and paid ten dollars therefor, shall be required to take out a license as retail dealer on account of selling other articles at the same store, stall, or premises: Provided further, That butchers who retail butchers' meat only from a cart or wagon, by themselves or agents, shall be required to pay five dollars for such license, any existing law to the contrary notwithstanding, and having taken out a license in the manner shall not be required to take out a license as a peddler for retailing butchers' meat, as aforesaid: Provided, further, that no license shall be required of a butcher whose annual sales do not exceed one thousand dollars.

Forty. Retail dealers shall pay ten dollars for each license. Every person whose business or occupation it is to sell or offer for sale any goods, wares or merchandise of foreign or domestic production, not including wines, spirituous or malt liquors, but not excluding drugs, medicines, cigars snuff, or tobacco, and whose annual sales exceed one thousand, and do not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars, shall be regarded as a retail dealer under this act.

Forty-one. Wholesale dealers, whose annual sales do not exceed fifty thousand dollars shall pay twenty-five dollars for each license; if exceeding fifty thousand and not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, shall pay fifty dollars for each license; exceeding one hundred thousand and not exceeding two million dollars, shall pay one hundred dollars for each license; exceeding two million and not exceeding two million dollars, shall pay two hundred dollars for each license; exceeding two million of dollars, shall pay five hundred dollars for every million of dollars in excess of two millions of dollars, in addition to the five hundred dollars. Every person shall be regarded as a wholesale dealer under this act who shall follow or occupy it is to sell or to offer to sell any spirituous, vinous or intoxicating liquors of foreign or domestic production, not including distilled spirits, fermented liquors or wines, but not excluding drugs, medicines, cigars, snuff, or tobacco, whose annual sales exceed twenty-five thousand dollars; and the license issued to any wholesale dealer shall not be for a less amount than his assessor for the previous year, unless he has made or proposes to make some change in his business that will obviously reduce the amount of his annual sales; now shall any license as wholesale dealer allow any such person to act as a commercial broker: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to repeal the same.

Forty-two. Wholesale dealers in liquors shall pay for such license the amount required in this act for license to wholesale dealers. Every person other than the distiller or brewer who shall sell or offer for sale any distilled spirits, fermented liquors, wines of all kinds, in quantities of more than three gallons at one time, or within annual sales shall exceed twenty-five thousand dollars, shall take out a license as wholesale dealer in liquors.

Forty-three. Retail dealers in liquors shall pay twenty dollars for such license. Every person other than a distiller or brewer who shall sell or offer for sale any distilled spirits, fermented liquors, or wines of any description, in quantities of three gallons or less, and whose annual sales do not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars, shall be regarded as a retail dealer in liquors under this law; but nothing herein contained shall authorize the sale of any distilled liquors, wines, or malt liquors to be drunk on the premises: Provided, That no person licensed to keep a hotel, inn, or tavern, or eating-house shall be required to take out a license as a retail dealer on account of selling other articles at the same store, stall, or premises: Provided further, That butchers who retail butchers' meat only from a cart or wagon, by themselves or agents, shall be required to pay five dollars for such license, any existing law to the contrary notwithstanding, and having taken out a license in the manner shall not be required to take out a license as a peddler for retailing butchers' meat, as aforesaid: Provided, further, that no license shall be required of a butcher whose annual sales do not exceed one thousand dollars.
